Annual Conference 2027

Overview

The Irish Society for Gene and Cell Therapy (ISGCT) warmly invites you to join us for the 2nd ISGCT Annual Conference, taking place 21–22 January 2027 at the Killashee Hotel, Naas, Co. Kildare, Ireland.

Following the highly successful inaugural conference held in Galway in January 2026, the 2027 meeting will bring together an even larger and more diverse community of researchers, clinicians, industry leaders, policymakers, and students working at the forefront of gene and cell therapy.

The Galway conference demonstrated the tremendous momentum building in Ireland's gene and cell therapy ecosystem, with vibrant discussions, outstanding scientific presentations, and strong engagement from industry partners. Building on this momentum, ISGCT 2027 aims to be bigger, more collaborative, and more impactful, showcasing the latest advances while strengthening partnerships across academia, healthcare, and biotechnology.

Together, we will explore cutting-edge science, highlight Ireland's rapidly expanding capabilities in advanced therapeutics, and foster new collaborations that will accelerate translation from discovery to patient impact.
